

EIZO Releases LCD Monitor Free Mount Options and Expanded Selection of Mounting Accessories

Arms and stands facilitate ergonomic positioning of screen and contribute to more efficient use of workspace

Matto, Japan, July 30, 2003 – Eizo Nanao Corporation (“EIZO”) today announced it is now offering its MultiEdge Series of LCD monitors in free mount (panel only) options and is also widening its selection of mounting accessories with the addition of two flexible arms, a dual height adjustable stand, and a wall mount arm. These new products are ideal for customers seeking a more efficient work environment where the screen can always be moved to the most comfortable position. All mounting accessories are made by EIZO so they match the design and color of the monitors.

Free Mount Option for MultiEdge Series

EIZO’s MultiEdge Series offers superb image quality and control for corporate, administrative, and back office environments. All models have thin bezels, built-in speakers, a tiered front panel for simple navigation of the control buttons, and 5 viewing modes – Text, Picture, Movie, Custom, and sRGB which can be accessed by a button on the front panel. MultiEdge models now available as a free mount option are as follows:

FlexScan L767-F (19" class color LCD monitor)

FlexScan L567-F (17" class color LCD monitor)

FlexScan L557-F (17" class color LCD monitor)

FlexScan L367-F (15" class color LCD monitor)

Mounting Accessories

LA-130-D (LCD Monitor Flexible Arm)

- Three axes (side-to-side-movement) and one link (height adjustment) allow for adjusting the monitor’s tilt, swivel, and height for best visibility when seated or standing, or moving it completely out of the way when not in use.
- Cable housing contributes to a clean desktop while preventing the cables from getting entangled.
- EIZO’s Smart Attach function incorporated in the clamp mechanism. Screws are tightened from the top rather than the bottom, and the clamp is even along all surfaces for hassle-free setup.
- Holds 15", 16", 17", and 19" LCD monitors<sup>1</sup>.
- Available in gray and black.
