

EIZO Acquires Endoscopy Monitor Business from Panasonic Healthcare for further growth of healthcare business

Hakusan, Japan, June, 6th, 2016 – EIZO Corporation (TSE: 6737) announced that it has entered into a definitive agreement with Panasonic Healthcare Co., Ltd. of Japan to acquire Panasonic Healthcare's endoscopy monitor business.

As a Visual Technology Company, EIZO is expanding its business in specialty markets like healthcare, creative work, and industry by offering a world-leading level of performance and reliability in product development and monitor solutions.

As per the mid-term business plan which EIZO announced in 2015, one of EIZO's priorities is to expand its business in the healthcare market with a particular focus on the field of operating rooms.

Since August, 2010, Panasonic Healthcare has been developing its endoscopy monitor business. The company has built strong partnerships globally with manufacturers of endoscopy and other medical equipment and its products are in wide use in operating rooms around the world.

By this acquisition, EIZO can provide a complete lineup of endoscopy monitors including 3D and 4K. In addition, integrating the technologies of both companies gives EIZO a significant competitive advantage in product development for accelerating the growth of its healthcare business.
